Week 61 started with the leadership training call delivered on Monday, 31 May 2010

The purpose of this webpage is to illustrate the value of the established Internet technologies and to observe how they are being influenced by newer methods of communication. Ultimately, it is the message which is important, rather than the technology. Register your specific interest in communicating with me at Plan4Success.mrk.me.

The information published herewith is relevant to anybody who wants/needs to generate additional income through participation in a home-based business opportunity. The Internet makes it possible to locate inspirational individuals who are prepared to share their knowledge and expertise which can be used to develop a positive mental attitude.
